STATUS OF THE GROUP

1. Status of Personnel

As of the 31 December 1944 officers were assigned to the Group. The number of enlisted personnel was 1870.

Broken down by units the figures are as follows:

Hq. 457th Bombardment Group:-
Officers assigned -----	33	Enlisted men assigned ---- 90
748th Bombardment Squadron:-
Officers assigned -----	115	Enlisted men assigned ---- 447
749th Bombardment Squadron:-
Officers assigned -----	111	Enlisted men assigned ---- 452
750th Bombardment Squadron:-
Officers assigned -----	116	Enlisted men assigned ---- 445
751st Bombardment Squadron:-
Officers assigned -----	113	Enlisted men assigned ---- 436

In December 31 officers and 36 enlisted men completed their operational tours.

The total casualty status as of 31 December is as follows:

Personnel Status

Missing in action	371
Killed in action	69
Prisoners of War	190
Interned	16
Escaped or Evaded	62

Aircraft down in December

Germany	39
Neutral	21
Occupied	5
Sea	5
Unknown	5

2. Crews Missing in Action

12 December 1944

750th Squadron

Merseburg, Germany

No flak was encountered up to point where aircraft No. 43-37567 was reported last seen.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

No damage was noticed to aircraft. It was flying lead in the low squadron and appeared to be having difficulty maintaining speed and altitude, causing the whole squadron to fall behind. It was flying at an air-speed of only 130 miles per hour and was losing altitude. Several witnesses said all four engines were turning. One witness reported number 4 engine feathered. Aircraft was not out of control. Just before leaving the formation, aircraft number 43-37567 dropped its wheels, pulled out to left and flew alongside the deputy lead aircraft, number 43-38301, for about one minute. One witness believes that aircraft number 43-37567 may have trailed the formation for some time instead of turning back immediately

The following changes in key personnel occurred during this period:

Major James H. Hovey was assigned to the group from the 401st Bombardment Group (H) per paragraph 5, Special Orders #281, Hq. this station, dated 27 December 1944. His primary duty is assistant operations officer.

3. Status of Aircraft

The Group had 91% of its aircraft in commission as of 31 December 1944.

No new aircraft were assigned to the Group during the month.

No aircraft were in Sub-Depot as of 31 December 1944.

4. Gunnery Training for Month of December

December saw an increase in Gunnery training man-hours over November. Our newest additions to Gunnery Training Aids are the addition of a simulated tail position in one of the Jam Handy Units and Mark III A sights on several positions in the Free Gun Trainer. This latter addition projects a beam of light from the position paralleling the line of aim onto the screen and enabling the instructor to make corrections in the gunners' sighting and tracking.

Additions to our instructor staff have aided immensely, allowing us to give gunners better and more thorough training.

OPERATIONAL NARRATIVE

Mission #134

COLOGNE

14 October 1944

Major Dickinson led the 457th to attack the Cologne Marshalling Yard on this date. Our planes comprised the "C" Group of the 94th CGW and 4th and last over the target. Other efforts were to be attacks on other W/I's and the Ford Plant in Cologne by the 2nd and 3rd Division and on Saarbrucken by the 41st Wing.

Carrying 14 X 250 lb GP's and 4 X M17's, the group took off at 0820 hours under 10/10 stratocumulus. After assembling on Glatton Buncher at briefed altitude plus 6,000 because of clouds, the formation flew the route over England at 21,000 feet. Control point #1 was reached two minutes early, and it was necessary to execute a double drift in order to lose time and to assume the proper position in the Division formation.

The route to the vicinity of the I.P. was flown on course at approximately 600 feet above briefed altitude in order to avoid contrails. The formation overshot the I.P. because of a misunderstanding between the lead navigator and the PFF navigator.

The group bombed the secondary PFF target due to 10/10 cloud coverage and a PFF run was made. The lead squadron turned about ten miles east of the briefed I.P. and the lead A/C sighted for both range and deflection. APCE functioned satisfactorily. Magnetic heading at "bombs away" was 360 degrees instead of 25 degrees as briefed. Bombs were released at 1157 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours from 25,800 feet for the lead squadron. The low squadron bombed in trail on the smoke markers of the lead squadron. Meagre to moderate flak was encountered, but it did not interfere with the run.

The high squadron bombed in trail but performed its own bombing on instruments. A rack malfunction occurred when bombs in the left rack were hung up at "bombs away." Shortly after this the bombardier was able to release these bombs.

The flight from the target was flown in trail of the Division Leader. The formation was considerably north of course, but could not deviate because of the necessity of remaining in the Division formation. Let-down was begun after recrossing friendly lines and was continued until the group descended to 3,000 feet over the Channel.

The group proceeded to the base without further incident and landed at 1503 hours. All crews returned safely with no loss of aircraft.

Mission #135

COLOGNE

15 October 1944

Carrying 14 X 250 GP's and 4 X M17's, the 457th today again attacked Cologne by instruments along with the rest of the 1st Division and twelve groups of the 3rd. Ten groups of the 2nd Division attacked Cologne's Ford Motor Plant as well as oil refineries at Reisholz and Monheim.

Taking off at 0630 hours with Colonel Watson in the lead ship, the group assembled on Glatton Buncher at 16,000 feet as briefed. The route over England was flown approximately as briefed with minor deviations to maintain Wing formation.

As 9th "B" Group the 457th arrived at Control Point #1 one-half minute late. The Division Assembly Line was flown on course, but "B" Group was three minutes late. The fact that "Swordfish Baker" was below briefed altitude led to a slight amount of interference up to approximately 25 minutes before the I.P. At this point, the group attained the bombing altitude of 25,600 feet and "Swordfish Baker" continued to climb to its briefed altitude, which eliminated the interference prevalent throughout the route in. The remainder of the route to the I.P. was flown as briefed.

The lead and low squadrons bombed the PFF Secondary in trail. The I.P. and target area were obscured by smoke and cloud cover. The AFCE run was made on a magnetic heading of 112 degrees and bombs were released at 0930 hours. Hits from the lead squadron extended along the direction of attack in a southeasterly direction across the southern edge of the old city and inside the perimeter railroad. Bombs from the low squadron dropped in the same direction as far as the perimeter railroad bridge across the Rhine River.

There were six direct hits on the railway intersection and one small explosion followed by a fire. The center of this pattern was approximately 15,000 feet to the right of the assigned PFF MPI along the direction of attack.

Moderate but accurate flak was encountered in the target area, accounting for the loss of two planes. The crews, however, were later returned safely to the group.

The high squadron fell behind at the turn before the I.P. and never was able to get into proper bombing formation. Neither the C-1 nor the PFF equipment were operative. The Bombardier was unable to see the smoke markers of the other squadrons and he held his bombs. After leaving the target area the Group Leader contacted the high squadron and was informed that the bombs had not been released. He then instructed them to attempt a run on Limburg (the secondary) if that was visible. It was, however, covered by 10/10 clouds. The high squadron then selected a T/O (a railroad junction) and dropped its bombs at 0950 hours from 26,100 feet on a heading of 207 degrees magnetic. The bombs fell in a wooded area one mile east of Bad Schwalbach, seven miles NW of Wiesbaden.

The return route was flown as briefed. At 10,000 feet over the Channel the groups split up into squadrons. The lead squadron made an instrument let-down and proceeded to base by individual aircraft. Landing time was 1215 hours.

Mission #136

COLOGNE

17 October 1944

In an all-out effort to knock out communication and transportation facilities in Cologne, all 3 divisions were sent up today to again attack this target.

With Major Snow in the lead A/C, the 94th "C" Group took off at 0620 hours, carrying 3 1/2 X 100 lb GP's and 2 X ML7 IB's. After assembling at 11,000 feet, the group flew the route to the Division Assembly approximately as briefed. England was left from Clacton.

From Control Point #2 to the I.P. the Group flew south of course in order to remain in the Division formation. The I.P. was overshoot, however, in an effort to attain the bombing altitude, which was 25,000 feet.

The lead squadron made the turn on to the bomb run about 15 miles east of the briefed I.P. The target area was covered by 10/10 clouds. At this point Jerry began throwing up his welcome sign in the form of heavy and fairly accurate flak. A/C #43-37606 piloted by Lt. Chapman was hit, did a 180 degree turn and left the formation.

The O-1 functioned normally, but the PFF equipment went out of commission 3/4 of the way down the bomb run. Bombs were released at 0933 1/2 hours abreast of other smoke markers.

The lead of the low performed its own sighting and dropped at 0934 hours. The high squadron dropped on the smoke markers of the lead, since its PFF equipment was also inoperative.

The return route was flown north of course in order to remain in Division formation. The Group continued north of course after reaching the Belgian coast in order to let down through breaks in the undercast.

At 1220 hours the planes landed. No further word has been received on Lt. Chapman's crew.

Mission #137

MANNHEIM

19 October 1944

The 457th today (as the 94th "A" Group) attacked the tank component and gun tractor works at Mannheim. With the load of 12 bombs (half 500 lb GP's and half ML7 IB's) the planes took off at 1000 hours. Assembly was carried out 1000 feet above briefed altitude because of weather, but the route over England was flown as briefed. After flying the Division Assembly line on course and in proper position, the group proceeded to the vicinity of Mons, Belgium. There the whole formation began to deviate south of course and the group followed in Division formation.

About 30 minutes before the I.P. the PFF equipment of the lead aircraft went out of commission, and it was necessary to turn the lead over to the high squadron. Shortly after this, the PFF equipment of the low squadron went out. The high squadron overshot the I.P. with the lead and low in trail.

The group attacked Mannheim on a combined visual and PFF run. The turn was made SE of the briefed I.P. Check points to the target were only partially obscured, but the target area was covered by 10/10 clouds. With the PFF equipment of the lead and low squadrons out, it was planned to drop bombs on the smoke markers of the high. The low squadron released its bombs successfully from 27,500 feet at 1339 hours, but the lead A/C of the lead squadron became enveloped in clouds and contrails and had to turn left. As a result it fell behind. However, the Deputy Lead was able to see the smoke markers and eight aircraft of the lead squadron released on them. The whole lead squadron then made a second run in order to allow the other three aircraft to drop their bombs. Only meagre, inaccurate flak had been encountered over the target.

The high and low squadrons proceeded to base in proper position. The lead squadron flew the return route separately and returned last, making an instrument let-down. The other two squadrons made a normal let-down and landed without difficulty at 1630 hours.

Mission #138

HANNOVER

22 October 1944

As the 94th "C" Group, we attacked the locomotive and tank works at Hannover on this date. Other targets attacked were auto works and transportation at Brunswick, Hamm and Munster.

Major Dickinson led the group off at 1030 hours, and assembly was executed at briefed altitude plus 2,000 feet because of clouds. The margin in altitude was maintained over England until Point "D" was reached. The remainder of the route to Control Point #1 was flown as briefed.

"Bunching up" of the groups at the Division Assembly Line made it necessary for the 94th "C" to fly about 5 miles to the left of course. By the time control point #2 was reached, however, the situation was corrected.

The formation lost time over the continent due to winds being different from briefed. Just before reaching the I.P., the group swung to the left of course in order to take interval behind the groups ahead.

Because of 10/10 clouds the target was attacked by PFF 1,000 feet above briefed altitude upon recommendation of the weather aircraft. The change in altitude on the run seemed very effective in offsetting the accuracy of the radar controlled AA guns.

Due to malfunction of the PFF equipment in the lead and deputy lead aircraft, the lead was turned over to the high squadron. The PFF operator gave four sighting angles before the target faded. This was sufficient, however, and the 6 X 500 lb GP's and 6 X M17 IB's were salvoed from 28,000 feet at 1438 hours. The other two squadrons released their bombs on the smoke markers of the high. The run was made on AFCE.

[REDACTED]

-3-

[REDACTED]

Winds caused the group to lose time again on the route back. A normal let-down was accomplished and the planes returned to the base at 1700.

Mission #139

HAMBURG

25 October 1944

Comprising the 94th "B" Group and second over our target, the 457th today attacked the center of the oil refinery and dock area of Hamburg. 10/10 clouds over the target, however, obscured the bombing results.

At 0930 hours the planes took to the air with Capt. Doherty leading the formation. After executing assembly as briefed, the group flew the course over the North Sea, arriving at Control Point #2 eight minutes early, because winds were not as briefed.

The group turned on the bomb run on the last turn before the visual I.P., because the primary target was covered by 10/10 clouds, and it became necessary to bomb the PFF secondary. Bombing was done by squadrons in trail, with the lead and high squadrons performing their own sighting operation. The 6 X 500 lb GP's and 6 X M17 IB's were dropped at 1344 from 25,500 feet on an AFCE run. The low squadron released its bombs approximately two seconds early because of confusion with smoke markers of other groups.

Flak near Dorum took a toll of one ship piloted by Lt. Angier. The plane was hit at 1315 hours at 26,000 feet and was seen to break up. Two to four chutes were observed. Target flak, however, was inaccurate but heavy.

The route from Hamburg was flown in trail of the preceding group. The formation let down through an opening in the clouds over the Wash and proceeded to base without further incident.

Glatton was reached at 1600 hours. Fighter escort throughout the mission was excellent.

Mission #140

BIELEFELD

26 October 1944

The Bielefeld Ordnance Depot, last attacked by the 8th Air Force on 7 October was today again subjected to a strong attack by our group and Polebrock and Deanehorpe. With Colonel Rogner as air commander (for both the whole 94th CGW and 94th "A" which we comprised) the group took off at 1015. Assembly was executed at 15,000 feet as briefed.

The route over England was flown above briefed altitude and with deviations in course to avoid clouds. From approximately five miles northeast of Control Point #1, the Division Assembly Line was flown as briefed with the group in the proper position.

[REDACTED]

The turn on the I.P. was made as briefed. 10/10 cloud coverage over the target area made it necessary to bomb the primary by PFF. The run was made by squadrons in trail. The lead and high squadrons released the bombs by means of the PFF equipment in each lead A/C. The mixed load of 500 lb GP's and M17 IB's was dropped at 1357 hours from 25,000 feet. The low squadron dropped a moment later on the smoke marker of the lead squadron. No flak was encountered on the run which was made on AFCE.

The target area which contained four large, four medium and three small buildings, was almost completely demolished. An intervalometer setting of 140 feet in PFF bombing admits an inherent inaccuracy which was disproved by the results of the mission. Noteworthy is the fact that PFF bombing instructions since then have called for a minimum setting.

After bombs away, the group flew the briefed course back to the English coast where it dispersed. The lead squadron made a normal let-down, while the high and low squadrons made an instrument let-down and landed at the base at 1615 hours.

Fighter escort had been excellent throughout the mission and the group suffered no losses to any causes.

Mission #141

MUNSTER

28 October 1944

Transportation targets took the limelight today as the group led by Major Snow, set out to attack the Munster marshalling yards while the 3rd Division attacked those at Hamm.

The group took off as 94th "C" and assembled 2,000 feet below briefed altitude and five miles northwest of Glatton Buncher because of clouds. Diverting south to head off the Division formation, the group assumed its proper position in the Division in mid-channel.

The route to the target was flown late by the whole Division formation. Since the target area was obscured by 5/10 clouds, the lead squadron bombed PFF with a visual assist. The Bombardier took over halfway down the run but was forced to turn it back over to the PFF operator because of clouds and haze. Bombs were released at 1439 hours from 23,000 feet.

The low squadron released its bombs on the smoke markers of the lead. The high squadron's PFF equipment was inoperative, and it had to drop into smoke visible from bombings of previous squadrons. Thick haze made it impossible to see the smoke markers.

Although no pictures were available for the strikes of the 14 X 250 lb GP's carried, there were photos showing the results of the four incendiary clusters per plane for the low squadron. Only three houses were burned out and little damage was done to the apartment and commercial type buildings hit by the incendiaries.

Dec

[REDACTED]

Although moderate and accurate flak was thrown up over the town, no A/C was lost. The route back was flown late but as briefed. The group was unable to let down over the channel and had to wait until it reached the vicinity of the English coast where it sighted holes in the undercast.

A normal let-down was executed and the formation landed without further incident at 1620 hours.

Mission #142

MUNSTER

30 October 1944

Although the assigned primary target today was the synthetic oil plant at Gelsenkirchen, solid undercast caused the group to drop its bombs on Munster for the second time in three days.

Taking off with Colonel Francis in the lead aircraft, the group assembled on the Glatton Buncher at 16,000 feet. The group then flew the Division Assembly line as briefed and in proper position.

Some difficulty was encountered in maintaining Division formation when the group ran into very dense and persistent contrails just off the Dutch coast. However, the course to the I.P. was flown as briefed.

Since 10/10 clouds covered the primary target, the group decided to attack the PFF secondary. The turn was made at the I.P. as briefed for PFF bombing with squadrons in trail. Visibility was poor because of contrails. Meagre and inaccurate flak had no effect on the bomb run, however. The lead squadron performed its own sighting and released its bombs at 1257 hours from 28,000 feet. AFCE did not function satisfactorily for the lead A/C in this squadron. The high squadron also performed its own sighting. The PFF equipment went out halfway down the bomb run, but the operator had given a sufficient number of dropping angles to permit the bombardier to release his bombs. The low squadron dropped on the smoke markers of the lead.

The route from the target was flown as briefed. Division formation was broken up because of contrails, and the group began a normal let-down over the Channel. All planes returned safely to the base.

Mission #143

MERSEBURG

2 November 1944

In an attack which cost the group nine A/C lost to enemy fighters, the 457th today set out to bomb the high priority synthetic oil plant at Merseburg-Leuna. Carrying 18 X 250 lb GP's, the planes took off at 0830 hours to assemble at 2,000 feet above briefed altitude because of clouds.

Route over England and the Division Assembly Line was flown as briefed-on time and on course. The route over enemy territory was flown approximately as briefed until the next to the last turn before the briefed I.P. when the group deviated north of course. The I.P. was reached about 30 to 35 miles north of briefed.

Dec
[REDACTED]

10/10 cloud coverage made it necessary to bomb PFF. The bombs were released at 1231 hours in the vicinity of Bernberg approximately 35 miles north of Merseburg. The AFUE run was flown parallel to and left of other groups.

After the B.R.L., the turn was made to the right. After a short interval the group headed southwest in order to close with other groups of the Division. About 15 minutes after "bombs away," the formation was attacked by approximately 40 enemy A/C - mostly FW-190's. The enemy attacked the low squadron in closely spaced waves of 10 abreast, pressed the attacks to within 100 yards and broke away in all directions. They were reforming for a second tail attack when P-51's upset their plans. Seven Fords were shot down out of this squadron. Two more were brought down from the lead and high squadrons respectively.

After the attack the route was flown in Division formation and ten to fifteen miles north of course. Over the Channel it was necessary for the group to deviate farther north in order to let-down through an opening in the clouds. A normal let-down was made and the planes landed at the base at 1545.

FRANKFURT

5 November 1944

1000 lb GP's were dropped on Frankfurt today in another 8th Air Force attempt to disrupt Germany's transportation system. Three squadrons were dispatched with Major Syptak in the lead A/C. Taking off at 0730 hours, the ships assembled on the Glatton Buncher at 10,000 feet. The group assumed its proper position in the Division Assembly and began its trek over enemy territory.

Because of winds being different to those briefed, the formation was three minutes late in reaching the I.P. 10/10 clouds existed in the target area and the AFUE bomb run was made by means of PFF equipment. The 457th bombed in Group formation. All three squadrons released their bombs on the smoke markers from Major Syptak's A/C with fair to good results. The lead squadron dropped at 1110 1/2 hours from 26,000 feet.

The flight from the target was flown on course, except for slight deviations caused by the necessity for remaining in Division formation. A diversion message was received about 30 miles from the French coast. At the coast, the formation flew considerably north of course in order to avoid weather conditions and let down through openings in the undercast. A normal let-down was carried out and the A/C proceeded to their diversion fields. Six A/C landed at this base at 1437 hours.

Mission #115

HARBURG

6 November 1944

Again an oil refinery was attacked by the 457th today. This time the target was Harburg with 1000 lb GP's once more as the bomb load. Captain Dozier was in command as the planes took off to assemble over the Glatton

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Buncher. The group assumed its proper position in the Division formation and proceeded across the Channel to attack its target.

The I.P. was reached six minutes late because winds were not as briefed. After the turn at the I.P., A/C #43-38904 was observed to leave the formation and is still missing. No damage, fire or chutes were observed and reason for leaving is still unknown.

The turn on the bomb run was made about five miles northwest of the briefed I.P. The target area was covered with 10/10 clouds and PFF had to be used. Although the group encountered moderate AA fire its accuracy was only fair and gave the Bombardier no trouble. All three squadrons released their bombs at 1058-9 hours from 26,000 feet on the smoke marker of the Group Lead A/C. Results were unobserved.

On the second turn after the bomb run it was necessary for the Group to swing north of course in order to remain behind the preceding group. A normal let-down was begun over the Channel and the planes returned to base at 1415 without further incident.

EVENTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Transportation for the Bertrand Russell lecture left from the Base Theater at 1830 hours on 1 December. Subject of Lord Russell's talk was "German Totalitarianism and Anti-Democracy: Fichte, Hegel and Nietzsche."

On 2 December the following TWX from 8th AF was quoted for the information of all personnel:

"Please extend my personal commendation as well as that of the entire Eighth Air Force to all fighter units of your commands for their outstanding display of aggressive aerial tactics against the enemy fighter force on missions of 26 and 27 Nov 1944. The record destruction of over 200 enemy A/C has once again shown the superiority of our fighters against the Hun. Each individual pilot is to be congratulated for the part he played on the fighter team that seeks to destroy the German Air Force. Likewise extend my congratulations to the Bomber Crews for the destruction of sixteen enemy A/C. (Signed) DOOLITTLE.

I take great pleasure in forwarding the above message from the CG Eighth AF. ---TURNER COMBODIV ONE---."

On 23 December the following message from Colonel Rogner was published:

TO ALL PERSONNEL OF THIS COMMAND:

I wish to extend my personal Christmas greeting to all members of this command and to express a desire that every Officer and every Enlisted Man of this base enter into the religious and social activities of the season.

This is a time when good spirit prevails and a proper time to ask God to help us and to lead us to a great victory and to ask His help in achieving the peace.

Christmas means something different to each one of you. In the years to come Christmas '44 will be remembered as your Christmas as a member of the 457th Bomb Group spent in England. Let's make it a good memory and in turn strengthen the bonds that make the 457th the Group that it is.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Colonel, Air Corps,
Commanding

The following TWX received from 1st Bomb Division, dated 23 December 1944, was quoted for the information of all personnel:

"Following TWX received from SAAF Quote D-69193 the following order of the day issued by the Supreme Commander is to be delivered to every member of all Headquarters and Units under your Command: Quote To every member of the A.E.F. The enemy is making his supreme effort to break out of the desperate plight into which you forced him by your brilliant victories of the summer and fall. He is fighting savagely to take back all that you have won and is using every treacherous trick to deceive and kill you. He is gambling everything, but already, in this battle, your gallantry has done much to foil his plans. But we can not be content with his mere repulse. By rushing out from his fixed defenses the enemy may give us the chance to turn his great gamble into his worst defeat. So I call upon every man, of all the allies, to rise now to new heights of courage, of resolution and of effort. Let everyone hold before him a single thought -- to destroy the enemy on the ground, in the air, everywhere -- destroy him. United in this determination and with unshakable faith in the cause for which we fight, we will, with God's help, go forward to our greatest victory. In the past few weeks numerous German prisoners of war have escaped from P/W Camps. These prisoners are likely to attempt sabotage to American and RAF camps. All personnel should immediately notify the Station Provost Marshall when suspicious persons are noticed lurking around government vehicles, property or camp sites.

There was a tea dance at the Aero Club on 31 December from 1500 to 1800. Music was furnished by the "Fireballs" and supper was served at 1800. At 2000 a movie, "The Spoilers", starring Marlene Dietrich and John Wayne, was shown. After the movie there was a Watch Party until 0015 with dancing to the juke box.

The Officers Club held a party to celebrate New Year's Eve. Dancing lasted from 2000 to 0030 hours to the music of the "Fireballs."

RECREATION AND WELFARE

1. Special Services

In the way of stage shows for the month we had on 28 December the USO show "Going To Town." The show was held in the Aero Club. Approximately 1,000 men attended the two performances. The cast included 3 men and 4 women.

For those interested in "Cutting the Rug" on the dance floor there were ample opportunities. The Officer's Club held dances on the following evenings: 24 December and 31 December. Dances for the Enlisted Men were held on the following evenings in the Aero Club: December 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29. Two tea dances were held in the Aero Club first on Christmas Day and the second on December 31. The NCO Club held their monthly dance on December 20. The 749th Bomb Squadron held a party for all personnel in the squadron. The base orchestra "Fireballs" played for all the dances held on the base thru-out December.

In the field of sports we turned from the football field to the basketball court. Two gyms are now available for the use of the personnel of Station 130. The gym in the Aero Club has been completed and have facilities for basketball, weight lifting, mats and boxing. The drill hall located on the London Road, Peterborough has been obtained for three nights each week. Our basketball teams take part in three leagues namely: Red Cross League in Peterborough, First Bombardment Division Basketball League and Station 130 EM League. The station league is made up of 11 teams all from the station. Station League games are played Monday and Tuesday of each week.

USAFI Enrollments for December of which 75% were Mathematics of accounting courses. 67% of available personnel participating in Army Talks. Information-Education Department now in own office adjacent to Base Theatre. 400 Textbooks and Self Study Books requisitioned as a basis for a new Post Library to be set up in the near future.

The Aero Club continued it's excellent work in December. A Xmas Party for the children in the neighborhood was held on December 21st. The program included a movie, songs, Music, snacks and a Xmas gift for all children attending. Approximately 200 children attended the party. Two Tea Dances were held in addition to the regular Friday Night Dances. Gymnasium at Aero Club open and interest is very high in basketball. The library has been a popular spot in the club. Interest in various small games such as checkers, chess, etc. has been very high.

2. American Red Cross

The Christmas and New Year celebrations were the bright spots in December's activities. Super decorations put together with all the crepe and tissue paper from headquarters had everyone in the Christmas spirit a week before hand. All the lights were covered with various colors of tissue paper, and balls of cotton hung down from them. Crepe paper was strewn from one end of the rooms to the other, and holly and mistletoe were stuck in every nook and cranny. There were Christmas trees in all the rooms. By the time it was covered with chaf, a wonderful substitute for tinsel, the room looked like a veritable fairy land.

The festivities started off with a party for the children in the surrounding villages. There were supposed to be seventy-five of them. Two hundred and twenty came. An accordionist played Christmas carols as the children came in. He tried to get them to sing, but they didn't seem to know any of the words. In desperation he asked them what they did know. With one accord they shouted "Pistol Packin Mama" and proceeded to sing every word of it at the top of their voices. A wild western movie, lots of food, and a Christmas package of candy sent them all home grinning from ear to ear.

On Christmas eve, a miniature Christmas tree and two candles were put on each table in the snack bar, and the only light in the room was that of the candles and the colored lights on the big tree. Ronald Colman's recording of Dickens' Christmas Carol made everyone as though he were back home by the family radio again listening to Lionel Barrymore do old Scrooge. Lorna Lashbrook took over afterwards, and the men sang and listened to her playing for hours. Christmas morning, late breakfast, with pancakes and syrup as the feature attraction, was served.

The tea dance Christmas afternoon was really a festive occasion. Everyone had caught the Christmas spirit and the snack bar looked like quite a gala place. A buffet supper followed, and a movie was to have topped everything off. Before the movie could start, the sad announcement came that the fog was closing in and all guests would have to leave the base immediately.

The men enjoyed their Christmas party to such an extent and were so disappointed over its premature end that we decided to do a repeat performance on New Year's eve and try to see it through to the proper finish. This time there was no hitch. The weather cooperated beautifully; the tea dance, supper and movie went off as scheduled; and the dates were allowed to stay on the base an extra hour so they could see the New Year in.

Two other programs during the month, which went over unusually well, were a magician's show by Lt. Peter Katz, who makes a hobby of magic, and a talk on Czechoslovakia by Sgt. Felix Kramer who formerly lived there.

Colonel Harris E. Rogner

Colonel Harris E. Rogner of Mansury, Ohio was named commanding officer of the 457th Bombardment Group on 11 October 1944. Colonel Rogner brought to his new command a broad background of experience gained while participating in all phases of the U. S. air offensive.

As former air executive of the 94th Combat Wing, he has piloted the lead Fortress of his formation on some of the roughest missions in recent months, including attacks on Berlin, Augsburg and Oschersleben.

Sometime ago Colonel Rogner was leading his combat wing in an attack on the industrial center at Bremen when his lead Fortress was crippled by flak as the formation neared its objective. A direct burst had knocked out his number two engine and he was unable to "feather" the spinning prop. Despite the terrific vibration caused by the wildly windmilling prop which set fire to the engine before it broke loose from its shaft, he held the big bomber in formation throughout the bombing run. After his bombs were released on the target, he successfully piloted his battered aircraft safely back to its home base.

Thus far in his combat career, Colonel Rogner has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Air with two clusters.

The 30-year old pilot graduated from Brookfield (Ohio) High School and was appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1934.

In his senior year he captained the basket ball team and won a berth on the All-American football team. Upon graduation, he was awarded the Sabre, which is presented annually to the outstanding all-round athlete of the graduating class.

Colonel Harris E. Rogner - Major Wilbur D. Snow

Major Wilbur D. Snow (right) is shown being decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross by the group commander, Colonel Harris E. Rogner of Masury, Ohio.

Major Snow is the commanding officer of the 748th Bomb Squadron and is a veteran of more than a score of the Eighth Air Force's huge daylight precision bombing assaults against the Nazi war machine. He received his high award for a series of actions in which he displayed brilliant leadership and the highest degree of courage and skill. Flying as the Air Commander of his group on a mission over the industrial area of Berlin, his formation was confronted with an intense anti-aircraft barrage and poor visibility, as well as excessive prop wash from the preceding formation, which made it difficult to keep the formation compact. Major Snow successfully maneuvered his aircraft into a more advantageous position and the rest of the group followed him. Then he started the bomb run, using through-cloud bombing technique. Reconnaissance photographs showed that factories, which were once of extreme importance to the enemy's war production, were now reduced to rubble. Leading his group on another mission against the vitally important transportation center at Munster, Major Snow's aircraft received a direct hit from the enemy's anti-aircraft fire, which seriously wounded his pilot and destroyed the bomber's radio equipment. Major Snow immediately took over the controls of the damaged plane and attacked the target, inflicting severe damage to the railway yards and lines, which were carrying supplies and reinforcements to the German Army on the Western Front. He then, without the aid of his radio, directed the group safely back to its base.

Major Snow had led the group against the Reich's transportation hubs at Kassel, Cologne and Frankfurt, as well as on troop support missions over St. Lo and the area around Aachen, all of which were carried out with excellent results and greatly aided our ground forces.

Thus far in his combat career, Major Snow has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters.

After completing his studies at the New Mexico Military Institute, Major Snow was appointed a cadet, at the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York, graduating from there with the Class of 1942.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Snow, of Towanda, Illinois, and husband of Mrs. Ethel F. Snow, of 12 Gedney Way, Newburgh, New York.

Captain George P. Overbey

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Captain George P. Overbey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Overbey, of Route 6, Jackson, Miss., is shown directing the landing of a formation of Flying Fortresses, by use of a radio telephone, from his post in the flight control tower.

Captain Overbey is the senior flying control officer for this group, and it is his duty to direct air traffic at this bomber station. Clearing aircraft for take-off and okaying planes to land is a tremendous task and requires much technical skill. At times more than two score bombers returning from a mission, over the heart of Germany, come over the field at the same time, dangerously low on gas, and some with battle damage that will force the pilots to make a crash landing, and there are those bombers with wounded aboard, it is up to Captain Overbey to decide which of the aircraft are to receive landing priority. The lives of hundreds of men and dozens of aircraft depend upon Captain Overbey at this critical time. To make these decisions, Captain Overbey relies upon his own knowledge of flying and his experience and ingenuity. He has successfully supervised the landings of the Fortresses from this group, with a high degree of safety and efficiency, for over a year, which is a credit to himself and to the United States Army Air Forces.

He was a Flying Cadet at Turner Field, Georgia, when he received his commission as a second lieutenant and his pilot's wings in December 1941.

Soon after graduating from Turner Field, Captain Overbey was assigned to a bomber group, in Maine, where he took part in anti-submarine patrol, until the Spring of 1942, when he joined another heavy bomber unit and was sent to England. Though Captain Overbey was the assistant operations officer of a B-17 squadron when he arrived here, his commanding officer selected him to study flying control procedure, as the Eighth Air Force was at that time in need of flying control officers. For this training, Captain Overbey was attached to the RAF to study their methods, and after he learned the techniques of the duty for which he was preparing, he returned to his group to take over the duty of Senior Flying Control Officer.

Prior to his entry into the Army Air Forces, in 1941, Captain Overbey attended St. Louis Park High School, Minnesota, where he lived for many years. He was graduated from the Hinds Junior College, just before he received his appointment as a Flying Cadet.

S/Sgt. Rodney N. Killian

S/Sgt. Rodney N. Killian, son of Mrs. Rattie R. Killian, of Sale Creek, Tennessee, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal, it was recently announced by the commanding general, Eighth Air Force.

Sergeant Killian is an intelligence specialist with this group, and is responsible for much of the efficient organization of the intelligence section here, and it is due to his keen mind and devotion to duty that the combat crews are clearly informed of the information which is necessary to them. He has performed outstanding work in assisting the combat intelligence officers in briefing the airmen for their flights over the heart of the Reich. By continually being on the alert for new ideas and information, Sergeant Killian has contributed greatly towards making bombing missions flown from this base more successful.

A graduate of Sale Creek High School, Sergeant Killian attended the McKensie School of Business, graduating from there in 1942.

Prior to his entry into the Army Air Forces, in 1943, Sergeant Killian was employed, as a clerk, by the Terrill Electric Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

"25. TOXICITY OF HIGH OCTANE AVIATION GASOLINE.

a. Cases of severe poisoning and fatalities from high octane aviation gasoline have recently occurred at Eighth Air Force Stations.

b. Although skin irritation and chronic poisoning may result from gasoline contact with the skin alone, all severe and fatal cases have resulted from inhalation of high concentrations of gasoline vapor. One fatal case and one near fatal case occurred in personnel who had pressed clothes recently cleaned with high octane gasoline, the hot iron producing a high concentration of gasoline vapor in the air.

c. All commanding officers will take immediate action to stop the unauthorized use of aviation gasoline in their organizations, and will take measures to minimize the exposure of personnel whose work brings them in contact with aviation gasoline. THE MOBILE BLOOD BANK WILL BE AT THE STATION DISPENSARY ALL DAY TODAY, 9 Dec 44.

Repeated attempts through the Daily Bulletin and Tammy to obtain type "O" Blood for immediate transfer and use at the Front Lines have not obtained the results required to meet the necessary Medical demand. It is again urgently requested that ALL personnel, except combat crews, with type "O" blood sacrifice one pint of blood to help your buddy at the front line keep from sacrificing his life. DO IT NOW - RIGHT NOW.

(SAVE LIVES - GIVE BLOOD) - (SAVE TIRES - WALK)

6. NOTICE: The following item which was published in the Stars and Stripes, 7 Dec 1944, is repeated for the information and guidance of all personnel of this command; "IKE'S WARNING AND A PLEA ON TIRES - "Today, as our armies exert ever-increasing pressure against the last defensive walls around the German Reich, the importance of bending every effort to hasten the day of victory in Europe is of personal concern to us all. From the top to the bottom of our military structure there is room for but one thought: TO WIN THE WAR.

This is a war of supply quite as much as it is a war of tactics. Furthermore, it is a war which consumes supplies at a terrific rate. While our factories at home produce these supplies, it is up to us to use them wisely and conserve them where possible.

One item of surpassing importance is tires. Tire wear in this Theater has exceeded all pre-combat estimates. As a result, we now are faced with a tire shortage which will, unless drastic conservation steps are taken, deadline ten per cent of our vehicles by the first week of February.

Care and conservation of tires is based on a few simple rules. Observance of these rules is a clear-cut function of command. In addition, there must be a keen awareness and eagerness on the part of every officer and soldier who rides in or operates a motor vehicle to protect that vehicle's tires for future trips.

I am not exaggerating when I say that the war will be needlessly extended unless we extract every possible mile from our tires and use them only as we find it necessary to do so. (Signed) DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER.

Necessary action will be taken by all personnel of this command to insure the proper use of vehicles at all times with a view to the greatest conservation of tires.

HEADQUARTERS EUROPEAN THEATER
United States Army
Office of the Commanding General

2 December 1944

TO ALL OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN, EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS:

Today, as our armies exert ever-increasing pressure against the last defensive walls around the German Reich, the importance of bending every effort to hasten the day of victory in Europe is of personal concern to us all. From the top to the bottom of our military structure there is room for but one thought: to win the war.

This is a war of supply quite as much as it is a war of tactics. Furthermore it is a war which consumes supplies at a terrific rate. While our factories at home produce these supplies it is up to us to use them wisely and conserve them where possible.

One item of surpassing importance is tires. Tire wear in this Theater has exceeded all pre-combat estimates. As a result we now are faced with a tire shortage which will, unless drastic conservation steps are taken, deadline ten percent of our vehicles by the first week of February.

Care and conservation of tires is based on a few simple rules. Observance of these rules is a clear-cut function of command. In addition there must be a keen awareness and eagerness on the part of every officer and soldier who rides in or operates a motor vehicle to protect that vehicle's tires for future trips.

I am not exaggerating when I say that the war will be needlessly extended unless we extract every possible mile from our tires and use them only as we find it necessary to do so.

s/ Dwight D. Eisenhower
t/ DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER
General, U.S. Army

TO ALL PERSONNEL OF THIS COMMAND:

I wish to extend my personal Christmas greeting to all members of this command and to express a desire that every Officer and every Enlisted Man of this base enter into the religious and social activities of the season.

This is a time when good spirit prevails and a proper time to ask God to help us and to lead us to a great victory and to ask His help in achieving the peace.

Christmas means something different to each one of you. In the years to come Christmas '44 will be remembered as your Christmas as a member of the 457th Bomb Group spent in England. Let's make it a good memory and in turn strengthen the bonds that make the 457th the Group that it is.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

"FOLLOWING TWX RECEIVED FROM SAAF QUOTE D-89193 THE FOLLOWING ORDER OF THE DAY ISSUED BY THE SUPREME COMMANDER IS TO BE DELIVERED TO EVERY MEMBER OF ALL HEAD-QUARTERS AND UNITS UNDER YOUR COMMAND: QUOTE TO EVERY MEMBER OF THE A.E.F. THE ENEMY IS MAKING HIS SUPREME EFFORT TO BREAK OUT OF THE DESPERATE FLIGHT INTO WHICH YOU FORCED HIM BY YOUR BRILLIANT VICTORIES OF THE SUMMER AND FALL. HE IS FIGHTING SAVAGELY TO TAKE BACK ALL THAT YOU HAVE WON AND IS USING EVERY TREACHEROUS TRICK TO DECEIVE AND KILL YOU. HE IS GAMBLING EVERYTHING, BUT ALREADY, IN THIS BATTLE, YOUR GALLANTRY HAS DONE MUCH TO FOIL HIS PLANS. IN THE FACE OF YOUR PROVEN BRAVERY AND FORTITUDE, HE WILL COMPLETELY FAIL. BUT WE CAN NOT BE CONTENT WITH HIS MEAN REPULSE. BY RUSHING OUT FROM HIS FIXED DEFENSES THE ENEMY MAY GIVE US THE CHANCE TO TURN HIS GREAT GAMBLE INTO HIS WORST DEFEAT. SO I CALL UPON EVERY MAN, OF US THE ALLIES, TO RISE NOW TO NEW HEIGHTS OF COURAGE, OF RESOLUTION AND OF EFFORT. LET EVERYONE HOLD BEFORE HIM A SINGLE THOUGHT -- TO DESTROY THE ENEMY ON THE GROUND, IN THE AIR, EVERYWHERE -- DESTROY HIM. 3. NOTICE: ALL ENLISTED PERSONNEL - It is common military courtesy and discipline to observe the signs which have been posted in the mess halls. "Remove your Cap" is common decency and should be a habit with every well-trained soldier.
"Eat All You Take" is common sense to effect the minimum waste of food. The observance of these signs is required by all personnel. Help keep the mess tables clean; use a few table manners; make the consolidated mess a place of enjoyment while eating. Be a gentleman as well as a soldier.

 WE ARE ALL JUDGED BY HOW YOU ACT **

4. NOTICE: ATTENTION ALL PERSONNEL - In the past few weeks numerous German prisoners of war have escaped from prisoner of war camps. These prisoners are likely to attempt sabotage to American and RAF camps.
